General Grant, in the midst of ovations, receptions, and banquets, is like a well-ballasted ship in a storm—he never careens.

When a man down South shoots another for political reasons, the Democratic journals in that country call it "an act of indiscretion which ought not to be repeated."

The three or four Democratic candidates for President, when they make a thorough canvass of their chances, finally have to admit that the "barrel" is the most potential element in the party, and that there is only one barrel.

"The most intelligent jury that ever sat in Yazoo county," refused to find an indictment against the coward who shot Dixon in the back and instantly killed him. This is the last chapter in the Yazoo tragedy, and it is even worse than the first.

A Democratic wag in New York wants to know "what it profits a party to gain the whole world and lose its own soul (e)." The Republicans have carried the country this year but in New York they have lost their soul. The Democrats may Seymour significance in this than the Republicans.

The Democratic papers which have been declaring all along that Potter was elected Lieutenant Governor of New York, will please take notice that the State Board of Canvassers have declared all the Republican candidates elected except Smith, for State Engineer. The official count took place on the 12th.

Poetmaster Enos, of Waukesha, who is a member of the National Republican Committee, is in favor of holding the National Convention in Chicago, and will so vote next week when the Committee holds its meeting. When interviewed in Chicago the other day, Mr. Enos said he had not made up his mind as to the Chairmanship of the Committee. There were a dozen candidates in the field, but he would not say who he would support.

The papers that have been so busy in announcing that Rev. Mr. Hayden has been acquitted of the charge of murdering Mary Sannard, will please make a correction. Mr. Hayden has not been acquitted, though he may be in the end. The trial is by all odds the most important that ever took place in this country, on account of the scientific research made by both the State and the defense. The trial can not certainly be concluded before the first of February. A Mr. Hayden was acquitted this week in Massachusetts, who was charged with the murder of his sister. It is the prevailing opinion among lawyers, we believe, that the Rev. Mr. Hayden can not be convicted on the testimony the State has presented.

We call the attention of our readers of the Gazette, to the prospectus of the New York Times—one of the greatest newspapers of modern times. The Times is edited and managed with consummate ability; and as a newspaper, and a Republican journal, it is the foremost in the land.
It is one of the solid papers of the country —solid in ability, solid in its political principles, and solid in its moral tone.
It is one of the most enterprising and reliable newspapers published in America, and will always be read with interest and pleasure by many thousands of readers. It is worth the price of the paper to have the pleasure of reading, four or five times a week, an editorial by Mr.
Alden, whose humor is rich and seemingly inexhaustible.

There has been a good deal of boasting on the part of the Democrats over the "quiet way" in which Louisiana was carried by their party. To be sure, the election was a foregone conclusion, and as might reasonably be expected, the Democrats had things their own way outside of New Orleans. Mr. Fred Stevens, of New Orleans, brother of Major F. F. Stevens, of this city, writes a private letter in which he gives some particulars regarding the manner in which the election was carried in some of the parishes. To his certain knowledge the Democrats hung one negro in one parish, whipped others in another parish, and thus so terrified the negro population that they, for fear of their lives, would not turn out to vote.

We have been asked several times,
"How much is expended a year per capita on the school children in this State, and what is the annual amount expended by the State for common school purposes?" In 1878, the amount expended for the support of schools, divided by the number of pupils attending school, gives each one $7.24. The amount paid to teachers was $5.42 per scholar. The whole amount expended in 1878, as shown by the Superintendent's report, was $2,148,329. The report which some papers published that it cost more than eleven million dollars to support Wisconsin schools, is outrageously false. The amount paid per scholar for educational purposes is less in this State than in many others, and there is not a State in the Union the schools of which are in better condition.

THE JANEVILLE GAZETTE.

VOLUME 23 JANEVILLE, WISCONSIN, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1879. NUMBER 238 the pinching cold from his body, he would have been immediately tried, convicted, and sentenced to the House of Correction, to suffer the torments of the damned. But those, who have stolen tens of thousands of dollars, is "respectably connected," has influential friends, has moved in upper society, dresses well and wears diamonds, is given the best place in jail, is waited upon by his society friends, and those from whom he stole a fortune, have sympathy for him, and will let the matter drop. This is the difference between a society man stealing a fortune, and a poor man stealing an old overcoat.

THE DEAF AND DUMB.

The annual report of the Trustees of the Institute for the Deaf and Dumb, has been presented to Governor Smith. Some four weeks ago the Gazette gave a sketch of this important institution, its condition and its needs, and suggested that it be rebuilt on the old site at Delavan, and that a liberal appropriation be made by the Legislature for that purpose. We have no doubt the Legislature will consider this subject wisely, and will therefore allow the Trustees to go on and rebuild. The appropriation asked for is $130,000 for rebuilding and $30,000 for current expenses. The question as to whether the Legislature will appropriate $130,000 for a new building may be a debatable one, but under the circumstances we see no reason why the money should be withheld or any delay occasioned in rebuilding. The plans adopted by the Board of Trustees are very elaborate, but we think not too much so, considering the number of pupils to be accommodated, and the general policy of the State in regard to its institutions.

The building planned by the Trustees will accommodate at least two hundred and fifty pupils, though that number is not at all certain. They predict that in four or five years there will be four or five hundred deaf mutes in Wisconsin requiring educational assistance from the State, and on this prediction the Trustees suggest that before long another institute for the deaf and dumb will have to be erected in the Northern part of the State. This, however, is a matter that does not concern the Legislature this winter, and no notice should be taken of any institution which is thought may be needed four or five years hence. The business of the Legislature is to settle the Delavan matter now—erect a building both in size, style, and capacity, which the interest and credit of the State demand, and leave the other question to future Legislatures.

JOHN BROWN SMITH'S TAXES.

There seems to be no man in the United States more devoted to principle than Dr.
John Brown Smith, of Northampton, Massachusetts. He is a martyr to principle. He would rather live in jail and beat the town out of his support, than to violate a principle in which two dollars are involved. For some cause Dr. John Brown Smith refused to pay a poll tax of two dollars. He had no fault to find with the roads about Belchertown, they were in good condition, and he had driven on them many times, but the question of principle came up in his mind, and finally he had a conscientious scruple against paying the two dollars. He was dunned, and he refused. He was threatened, and still he could not be moved. He could not violate his cherished "principle," valued at two dollars, and finally the authorities ordered him arrested. He was placed in jail at Northampton, and already has been there ten months, and Belchertown pays his board. Dr. John Brown Smith is satisfied to remain in jail, where of course he lives well and has not a few conveniences, but the tax-payers of the town, are beginning to think that the "principle" to make him pay his poll tax is a little too expensive, and hence they treat the authorities to let him out. But the principle of public economy has no influence over the fathers of Belchertown, and they refuse to release him from incarceration.

While Dr. John Brown Smith is living in a cell and in the glory of martyrdom to a "mighty principle," the solid men of Belchertown and the authorities are determined to pay his jail board as long as he can endure the incarceration, and in his own estimation become a sacrifice to "principle." The town has right, might, and money on its side, and some day the Doctor will conclude that he had better pay his two dollars poll tax, and gain his liberty, than to attempt to make the town back down.

AN OWL'S LAST FEAT.

Some time ago a lady at the Galt house, Louisville, Kentucky, who is quite an ornithologist, and is skilled in the art of stuffing birds, was presented with a wounded owl, which she placed in a cage and eventually tended until he became an interesting pet. About a week since a dead blue bird, a very pretty one, was sent her and she stuffed it, making an unusually fine specimen. So naturally was it poised, as if about to spring, that even the owl, wisest of birds, thought it alive and stared at it night and day, as if in wonder that it did not fly. Since his captivity the owl has had no life food and frequently he stepped his bill at the blue bird, thinking what a delicious morsel it would make. One night last week he got out of his cage, no one knows how, and he made a glorious meal of that blue bird stuffing himself as if it was his last, alas! so it was. The bird was picked with a knife, a preservative that killed it. And now the owl, with open beak and outstretched wings, is poised where the blue bird posed before him.

Now those funny people who write the health items for the papers have discovered that onions will cure rheumatism. We don't wonder at it. The case of rheumatism that wouldn't get up in its right shirt and rush out into the streets of Paris and hide its head at the smell of onions pounded of broken glass from now till a week from next summer.—New York

A BADGER INTERVIEWED.

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—Congressman George C. Hazelton, of Wisconsin, member from the Third Wisconsin District, was at the Palmer House yesterday on his way to Washington, and was accosted by a Tribune reporter. Said Mr. Hazelton: "I see that your people are trying to get the next National Republican Convention in Chicago. Your city ought to have it. I shall stand by that and work all I can to get it here."

"Who are you for for President?" asked the reporter.
"I am for the Republican nominee, who will be a good man. The chances are that Grant will get the nomination. I don't think that he wants it, but his family would like to have him get a nomination and election. It would be his pride that he attain a notch above Washington, and it would be a just pride. Grant would make an acceptable and good President."

"What do you think of the Chairman of the Republican National Committee?"
"A Western man ought to be its Chairman. It is a position that belongs to the West, and it would be to the interest of the Republican party to select a man from the West. Chandler was a Western man, and a Western man should take his place. The members of the South and West should unite upon that. Enos Enos or James P.
Root would be good men for the place, and I understand that they are both candidates.
The next best man I think is Don Cameron of Pennsylvania. This is one of the principal States in the Union, and is probably as much identified with the West as any, and much more than some of the New England States."

"How about party lines in Wisconsin?"
"The Democracy is demoralized and disorganized, but that don't say that we have got a walk-away in 1880. I think the State is largely Republican, but we must be content to sleep."

"How about Congressional matters?"
"I anticipate a quiet session, and I believe in letting the currency question alone.
Good-day."

GENERAL GRANT.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Dec. 12.—General and Mrs. Grant's reception in this city to-day was a grand success, and reflects great credit on the Capital City of Ohio, and to the gentlemen having charge of the arrangements.

Before 9 o'clock this morning the principal streets were crowded with people, and before noon the continued wave of humanity swayed to and fro through the great thoroughfares. Decorative art was never displayed in such abundance as it was upon this occasion. The places of business on High street for nearly five miles were literally covered with flags, bunting, and evergreens, wreaths of bunting and scores of flags hung across the street, and the populace gave itself up to hospitable abandon. The Capitol building was richly decorated with cedar and flags, and long streamers of bunting were stretched from cornice to apex. In front hung the motto "All hail, Ohio's pride," beneath which, at the entrance to the Capitol, was a halo of flags, bunting, and evergreens.

General and Mrs. Grant and party, and the committee which went to Xenia to meet them, arrived by special train on the Little Miami Division of the Pan-handle route at 2:45 p.m., and were greeted with a salute of thirty guns, fired by United States troops, and the blowing of steam-whistles all over the city. After the train had stopped and General Grant and party had stepped into the depot, Mayor Collins made the welcoming address in behalf of the city.

THE MARSHALS.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—To-day closes the second week of the session, both Houses of Congress having adjourned until next Monday. Notwithstanding the United States Marshals throughout the country have for nearly six months been compelled by neglect of Congress to bear individually all the expenses of their offices, not a step has yet been taken by the House to re-im-burse them. At the very beginning of the session, the Democratic members of the Appropriations Committee professed to be anxious to hasten the Marshals' Deficiency bill, and called upon the Attorney General for an estimate, and it was promptly furnished, but the majority of the Committee suddenly lost all interest in the matter, and decided not to touch it until after the holidays. The Appropriations Committee has found time to prepare, and the House to pass, two appropriation bills, which, together, provide for an expenditure of $33,000,000.

But none of this expenditure can be made until about seven months hence, and there was no need of haste about these bills.
To-day too, the House devoted an hour or more to the discussion and passage of a private claim amounting to $20,000.
As this claim has been on the floor of Congress over thirty years, no great harm would have resulted if it had not been passed to-day, or even until after the holidays. The Marshals' deficiency amounts to $600,000. All the questions relating to it were thoroughly discussed in Congress last spring. The Government owes the Marshals now for money actually expended and for fees accrued about $300,000. But the Democrats in Congress coolly postpone the payment of the debt to suit their political convenience.
For this disgraceful state of affairs the Democrats, and they only, are responsible.
All the show of industry they are making is meant to deceive the people and to postpone the evil day when the issues made at the extra session must be boldly faced or cowardly abandoned.

GRADUALLY FAILING.

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 12.—There is no marked improvement in the condition of Archbishop Hann. He is still very weak, and the only nourishment he can bear is scarcely sufficient to stay his waning energies.
One of the clergymen who visit him daily has abandoned all hope of his recovery.
He disclosed the fact, well known to the clergy, that the venerable prelate has been gradually failing for nearly two years, and that his vitality has been remarkable under the circumstances. It is barely possible that he had been relieved of part of the responsibilities of his high and holy office, by the appointment of a coadjutor bishop when he requested it, he might have seen the rejuvenating effects of a milder climate, and thus added to his long and non-orable career.

BOARD OF CHARITIES.

MADISON, Dec. 12.—The Board of Charities and Reform all reached here last night, and have been cloistered with the Hon. H. H. Giles, their Secretary, who is confined to his residence by an attack of sciatic rheumatism. They have been examining testimony, taken by Mr. Giles in his capacity of Secretary, and will be here to-morrow and perhaps Monday. It is understood all of the members are for making a short, sharp and decisive report against the management of the House of Correction, except Dr. Reed, who, it is said, leans decidedly the other way. Their report has not yet been written, but it is expected it will be to-morrow, and handed to the Governor, when any representative hopes to pre-cure a copy, which will be forwarded immediately. No claim can be got from any member of the committee as to what their report will contain.

THE WHEAT BOOM.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Dec. 12.—There is no abatement of interest in the wheat market.
When trade opened this morning the advices were very favorable, and January commanded $1.31@1.31½. In February, some trading was done at $1.33@1.33½.
Afterward there was a decline of 1c. On "Change," January was at $1.30½, and February at $1.32½. December wheat was at $1.29. Subsequently there was a further decline of from ½¢ to 1¢. At the afternoon board the market was weaker, but gradually grew stronger, and closed at $1.30½ on January, and $1.32½ on February.

A FAITHFUL DOG.

WAUPACA, Dec. 12.—Eddie Van Epps the 9 year old son of Police Justice Van Epps, of this city broke through the ice on Mirror Lake, where the water was over 100 feet deep, and his life was saved by his dog, the sagacious animal jumping into the water and holding his young master's head above the surface for fully ten minutes until help arrived, and the boy and dog were rescued. The child was so chilled that he is yet in danger.

Interesting to those familiar with sea-life and nautical terms, but rather slow and lacking in incident to the ordinary reader.

A GENTLE BELLE. By CHRISTIAN REID. Appleton's Library of American Fiction. From Jansen, McClurg & Co., Chicago. For sale by the Janesville dealers.

This pleasant author writes of the most agreeable side of Southern society life, and has added another interesting novel to the list which has already made her famous.

THE TALISMAN. By SIR WALTER SCOTT. Harper's Franklin Square Library. From Jansen, McClurg & Co., Chicago. For sale by the Janesville dealers. Price 15 cents.

The Harper's are doing a good work by issuing in this cheap, though good, form, the works of standard authors, as it places them within the reach of all. The Talisman, a favorite with lovers of the Waverley novels, and the inimitable Pickwick Paper, by Dickens, have been added to their attractive list.

THE LILY.

A maiden said to a lily,
"I go to the dance to-night:
With thou nestle among my tresses, O lily, so pure and white!"
"I will twine thy pale, beautiful spray," Why sudden thy bridal, lily?
By weaving my cold, white flowers:
Sweet roses and orange-blossoms
Should gladden thy joyous hours."

A bride saw the lily blooming;
"I go to the altar to-day:
In my bridal garland, sweet lily,
I will twine thy pale, beautiful spray."
Why sudden thy bridal, lily?
By weaving my cold, white flowers:
Should gladden thy joyous hours."

A mother wept o'er the lily;
"Thou shalt lay on my dead child's bosom, For surely thy place is there."
"O mourning, sorrowful mother, Thou hast seen one blossom fade.
On the shrub, on the broken lily, Be a wreath of immortelles laid."

A young girl whispered: "O lily, Let me place thee on my breast,
For the sweet Lord Jesus cometh To-day in my heart to rest."
And the lily answered: "Yes, maiden, On thy heart let my blossoms be:
That my pure white petals may wither Near the Lord of purity."

MISCELLANEOUS.

The devil stood at his back-yard fence whence all but him had fled. The flames that lit his father's barn above, just above the shed. One bunch of crackers in his hand, two others in his hat; with piteous accents, loud he cried, "I never thought of that!" A bunch of crackers to the tail of a small dog he'd tied. The dog, in anguish, sought the barn, and 'mid its ruins died.
The sparks flew wide and red and hot; they lit upon the hat; they fired the crackers in his hand and blew them in his hat. Then came a burst of rattling sound—the devil where was he gone? Ask of the winds that far around strewn bits of meat and bone, and scraps of clothes and balls and tops and nails and ends of yarn, the relics of the printer's devil that burned his father's barn.

Catarrhal POISON!

We do Weyer's Treatise on Catarrh explains the following important facts:
1. That Catarrhal Colic becomes a possible infection, at first local, and finally constitutional.
2. That, being Constitutional, the infection is beyond the reach of mere local remedies.
3. That impurities in the nostrils, are necessarily swallowed into the stomach and cause Catarrh of the stomach, leading to Dyspepsia, Respiratory and Genito-urinary organs.

4. That Catarrhal virus follows the mucous membrane of the nose, throat, bronchi, lungs, and the digestive tract, causing Chronic Catarrh, Bronchitis, Leucor-rhea, and Consumption.
5. That smokes, Douches, Inhalations, and Immobile Sits, cannot possibly remove infectious inflammation from the organs named.
6. That an antidote for Catarrh must possess an inoffensive activity for, and the quality of being absorbed by, the patient mucous wherever located.
Based upon these plain theories, Dr.
W. D. Weyer's Catarrhal Cure has proved to be infallible. It not only cures, it cures Catarrh at any stage. Home testimony:

several possessors of dairies who use only the Jersey—among them Mr. Sargent of Massachusetts, who sells his butter at $1.10; Colonel Waring, of Rhode Island, at $1.00; Mr. Starn, of Connecticut, at 90c; and the product of the Burr

Oaks Jersey herd, of Illinois which sells in the Chicago market for 42c.

When such prices as the above are obtained, who can doubt as to the superiority of the Jersey for the dairy? In regard to the prolific yield of this breed, the National Live Stock Journal, which is a acknowledged one of the most conceptions and reliable stock journals in the country, says it has "summed up the yield of 65 Jersey cows, which show an average of 295 pounds of butter per year. A Philadelphia herd of 17 cows averaged 245 pounds each for the year 1876; Mr. Mackie's herd of 15 cows gave an average of 251 pounds on ordinary feed; and in a breeding, rather than a butter making herd;

Moley's cow, "Flora," gave 511 pounds in one year, and "Pansy" 573 pounds in twelve running months." What other breed can at all equal this average? Had we the space, we should like to give some extracts from this very interesting paper of Mr. Palmer's, which, more than anything that we have read recently, does full and ample justice to the much desired qualities of this popular and valuable breed—which have continued not only to grow in favor among dairymen, but to increase in value as their merits are better understood, notwithstanding the shrinkage of value and the depreciation of all other stock; and while their high prices may deter some from purchasing, do such consider that from pure Jersey stock thirty per cent more can be realized, and from grade stock twenty per cent more, than from ordinary stock. Viewing it simply from an interest yielding investment point, they are much cheaper for dairy than a cheaper grade. They milk earlier in life, longer, and nearer to their calving than any others; and yet the care, attention and expenses required to raise them are no more than for those of a lower grade; and while the one is so far superior in every respect for the dairy, and an ornament to lawns—an object of interest and pride—the other are not only a source of expense, without adequate profit, and anything but pleasing to the eye. The good and true points, the many excellencies, the superiority over all others of the Jersey, were so ably presented by Mr. Palmer that the facts set forth not only made a deep impression upon his auditors, and turned their thoughts more entirely to the merits and advantages of this breed for dairy purposes, but also elicited very general encomiums from all present for the masterly presentation of the claims of his favorite—the mid-eyed Jersey.

His Business was Booming.

As one of the most prominent young burglars of San Francisco was walking out of court the other day just after having secured an acquittal regarding his latest job by a prompt and business-like "divvy"

with the powers that be at the usual rates, a well-to-do but anxious looking stranger touched his arm and beckoned him into a doorway.

"You are 'Teddy,' the ferret, aren't you?"

asked the gentleman, "the man who was tried yesterday for safe cracking?"

"Well, wot of it?" replied the house-breaker.

"Why, just this—you'll excuse my speaking so low—but the fact is I've come all the way from San Joaquin to look up a party in your line of business."

"Yes, eh?"

"Yes—I well, I've a little proposition to make to you."

"Exactly," said the ferret, calmly, "you're a bank cashier down in the foot-hills."

"How did you know that?" stammered the gentleman, much amazed.

"And your cash and accounts are to be gone over by the directors on the first, and you can't realize on your stocks, you want me to go you some time next week, shoot your lot full of holes, find the combination in your breast pocket book, and then go through the safe in the regular way."

"Great heavens, man! how did you find all that out?"

"Why I guessed it. It's the regular thing, you know. Get three or four letters to about at your bank. Lumme see! Can't do anything for you next week, but might give you Wednesday and Thursday of the week after. How'll that suit you?"

The cashier said he thought he could make that do, and in less than five minutes they had struck a bargain and arranged the whole affair.

Even now Mr. X isn't much ahead of San Francisco in regard to modern conventions.

AGRICULTURAL ITEMS.

Sixty thousand acres of fruit trees have been planted in Iowa during the past year. Yes! Times are always good when men pay as they go, and live within their means.

Snell Foster reports having gathered this fall 300 bushels of tomatoes on half an acre.

It cost no more to raise a good animal than a poor one. The food spent while they are young is repaid cent per cent.

No medical treatment can be positively recommended as a preventive for contagious disease.—Dr. Dunlap.

The style of an old man is: "If you are out of debt, keep out; and if in debt, get out as soon as possible."

The breeder of any better cow would be most unwise in improving those qualities which tend especially to a profitable feeding for beef.

If only six substantial farmers in a town are agreed, they can organize and sustain a club which will put life into the agricultural and social culture of that town.

The value of farms in the United States is eleven billion, and the annual product is three billion. In four years, therefore, the produce equals the value of the farms.

The Union Stock Yards of Chicago occupy 350 acres of land, and cost nearly $5,000,000. They will accommodate about 10,000 cattle, 120,000 hogs, 5,000 sheep, and 1,000 horses at one time.

The Rural World says that it is not good luck that makes the crops, but it is good work. Some farmers always have good crops, and get good prices. It is because whatever they put their hands to they do well.

Much strawberries as soon as the ground freezes. Use straw which has been brushed clean. Cover the plants from light, but not so thick that it will dry through after rain. Lay brush, poles or light strips of board on the straw to keep it from blowing off.

A good Jersey cow, during ten years of usefulness, will produce milk enough to pay for her keep, and 3,000 pounds of the best butter in the world into the bargain—butter worth several times as much as the heaviest beef animal.

Prof. Shildon, in his new work on dairy farming, assumes that 350,000,000 gallons of milk are annually made into cheese in England, and 550,000,000 gallons in butter. The quantity of the former product made is 125,000 tons, and of the latter $9,250 tons.

Under the stimulus of a money prize offered by the York county (N.Y.) Agricultural Society, thirty-two boys have raised upon one acre of an acre of land 1,000 pounds of corn, six over 1,000 pounds, and over 1,300, one over 1,300, one over 1,400, the champion being Moses S. Minked, Jr., of Bilsford, with a product of 1,494 pounds.

Sheep should have better care in early winter than farmers are in the habit of bestowing. Wintering sheep to make them live only, is not attended with profit, unless the high or low sheep are commonly neglected more in early winter than any other farm stock for they are often the very last taken from the pasture.

Swine that are fattening will do better with soaked corn than with dry. Corn soaked in water for 12 hours has been found more economical to feed than when ground into meal. The animals are more fed, the food digested better, and, consequently, the feeding is done more expeditiously, and feed—which is money—is saved.

Vermian are the greatest pests to Iowa. They are worse in the winter than at other times, because the fowls are confined more closely, and have no opportunities to free themselves. Lice may be destroyed by washing the house and roosts with lime wash mixed with carbolic acid. Fleas may be destroyed by thoroughly greasing the roosts. Clean straw should be supplied for early layers. A glass covered coop will be useful for an early setting hen and a young brood of chickens.

Says the O'neill Journal: "Several weeks ago we published an item to the effect that a lady had discovered that a teaspoonful of coal oil to a gallon of water was a certain destroyer of the plant lice. Last week we gave it a trial on some begonia and other tender plant, and are now ready to give our evidence in support of the unknown Michigan lady's theory. Upon examination of the plants some hours after sprinkling every louse was found to be white and dead as a door nail. We used a watering pot while also recommended a hand brush. We would advise our readers to try it."

If a pul of water be placed within six inches of either side of the stem of a pumpkin or a vegetable marrow, it will in the course of the night approach it, and will be found in the morning with one of the leaves on the water. If a prop be placed within six inches of a young cauliflower, or early runner, it will find, although the prop may be buried daily, after it has twined some distance up the prop, it will unwind and twined in an opposite direction, it will return to its original position or die in the attempt; yet, notwithstanding, if two of the plants grow near to each other, they will not strike around which they are twined, but of them will also the direction of the spiral and they will twine around each other.

A pair of cards and a brush should be in every cow stable, and cleanliness should be carefully observed. A thorough carding and brushing will not only increase the quantity of the milk, but will add to its purity. Young calves should be free from vermin by applying a mixture of kerosene oil and kerosene to the parts affected. Water troughs should be emptied and turned over at night, to prevent them being frozen up. Tools will be easier when kept in a selected place than when lying about. These notes may be used with much improved by soaking the wood with kerosene, and covering the metal parts with a coat of oil, or what is better the mixture of lard and rosin. If accounts have been kept, nor any daily record of farm work, the proper tools should be procured, and at the beginning of 1917 a commencement made. It is worth the trouble to know just how one stands with himself and the world.

We quote the following from the New York Commercial Advertiser of October 30th: The export of American hops this year will be relatively as remarkable as the export of wheat in former years. It is asserted by Englishmen that American "could not make good beer because they had not the hop," but this year owing to the failure of the hop crop in Kent and elsewhere, the English brewers are coming to this country for supplies. It is said that our hop dealers have entered into contracts for the supply of 500,000 bales, at an average of 175 pounds of hops per bale, in this city, and the country is not ready to supply such a demand. The largest hop growing region is the State of New York, and the supply here will be over 90,000 bales. California will produce perhaps 20,000 bales and Wisconsin about 10,000, and the largest crop yet produced in the country is expected to be 200,000 bales. Of this about 75,000 bales are required for domestic use, but as the brewers are stocked up, having taken advantage of the low prices in former years, it is not unlikely that the whole of last year's crop will be available for exportation.

Bob Hart's New Bohers.

New York, Dec. 11.—"Ex-Senator" Bob Hart was given a benefit this afternoon by the San Francisco Minstrels. It is over a year since he professed to be converted, stopped drinking, bade adieu to the stage, and announced his intention of becoming a missionary. He has stuck to his resolution and he declined all offers to return to his old profession. He was the other day appointed a custom house collector, but had previously had little or no work, and was in poor circumstances. He objected to the benefit at first, and told the boys the Lord was providing for him, but they told him that he could use the money to buy a library, and thus fit himself better for his missionary work, and at last he consented. The hall was crowded, in spite of the rain. The performance consisted wholly of songs by the talented singers of the company and performances on the cornet, xylophone and banjo. The company appeared in white faces. The quartet, sang one of Moody and Sankey's hymns, and the Rev. Geo. J. Mingling, of the Church of the Holy Trinity, thanked the audience in behalf of Mr. Sutherland, as the old minstrel is now known. Bob also made a little speech. "Bob's got religion, sure," says Mr. Charles Backus, "I can't understand him. He used to be with us, you know, and was a tip-top middle man and stamp-speaker; but he drank and was going to the dogs. Why, he could make lots of money if he wanted to. He can come with us to-morrow at $75 or $80 a week. I might the boys are giving him a benefit. The Rev. Mr. Miggins says: If ever a man was soundly converted it is Bob Sutherland. He has been working in our missions for several months, doing much good. He wants to be a city missionary, not a salaried one, and he will succeed. He has a position in the custom-house, but will give his rights to study and work."

CATARH

Of Ten Years' Duration. The Discharges Thick, Bloody, and of Foul Odor. Senses of Smell and Taste Wholly Gone. Entirely Cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

Wm. W. & P. O. Sanford. I feel compelled to acknowledge to you the great benefit your Radical Cure has done to me. I have been suffering with Catarrh of the bladder for ten years, and especially in the winter time it has been most distressing. I have been unable to work, and have been obliged to use the urine of others. One week after commencing the use of your Radical Cure, I was able to work, and I am now completely cured. I feel that I am a new man, and I will cheerfully inform you in detail as to the benefit the remedy has been to me.

MELBOURNE, N. Y., Dec. 11, 1916.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 11, 1916.

Gentlemen: The package of Sanford's Cure arrived here today, and I have been using it for some time. I have tried many other remedies, but none have done me any good. I have been able to stop the discharge, and I feel that I am a new man. I will cheerfully inform you in detail as to the benefit the remedy has been to me.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 11, 1916.

Not only promptly arrests the corroding discharge in Catarrh, but, by sympathetic action, it restores to some extent of all the organs of the urinary system. It is a powerful remedy, and is the only one that has been found to be effective in the following affections:

Discharge of Urine, Inflamed and Irritated Eyes, Painful and Watery Eyes, Loss of Hearing, Earache, Neuritis of the Ear, Discharge from the Ear, Pain in the Head, Dizziness, Nervous Headache, Pains in BRIEFLETS.

—Round table knight.
—The trial of Jerome Shimeal is still in progress in the Circuit Court.
—Song and praise about "The Beautiful City," at the First Methodist church tonight.
—Prof. J. D. Butler, of Madison, arrived this afternoon, and is the guest of Hon. Piny Norcross.
—Hon. J. A. Blount returned yesterday from Vermont and the East after an absence of about a month.
—The Clinton adultery case was called before Justice Brooks, yesterday afternoon, but adjourned for ten days.
—The Oakley larceny case had another adjournment to-day on account of a material witness, who had failed to accept the urgent invitation to be present.

—Mr. O. H. Fethers is gradually getting the upper hand of the rheumatism which has troubled him so seriously, but it still keeps him a prisoner at home.
—Hettman who was charged with having assaulted young Richards, was to-day fined $1 and costs amounting to all to $16. He braced up and took an appeal.

—Mrs. L. E. Tompkins, who had her shoulder badly injured last summer by a fall has so far recovered as to be able to be among her patients again as usual.

—Miss Ella Few, who has spent some time in this city, and whose violin solos have proved so pleasant a feature in several entertainments here, expects to return to her home in Leavenworth, Kansas, next Monday.

—Hon. Frank Leland, United States Consul to Hamilton, Ont., arrived in this city yesterday, accompanied by his wife. To-day business called him to Delavan, but he is to return this evening and spend the Sabbath here. He and his wife are always welcome visitors to this city.

—The funeral of Mrs. Erler were held yesterday afternoon, and was largely attended by sorrowing and sympathizing friends. The services were conducted by Rev. F. L. Chapell and Rev. J. W. Sanderson, and appropriate music was rendered by Mrs. Ruger, Mrs. Sanderson, and Messrs. Wingate and Bladen.

—One of Scheritaw's customers while in that rascal last evening missed his watch, and at once concluding he had been robbed raised a howl, which woke up all the neighbors. His excitement was allayed until he reached his boarding house and found that he had left the watch at home, and there it was. No arrests.

—The last number of the Baptist Review contains an article from the pen of Rev. F. L. Chapell of this city, on "The Relation of the New Testament Church to the Preceding Dispensations," and which is well worth a close reading. The Baptist Review is a new publication which has just closed its first volume. Its editor and publisher, J. R. Baumes, D. D., of Cincinnati, is a brother of Mrs. Antidell, of this city, and also has a brother in Deloit, which fact adds something to the interest felt here in the new work, aside from the interest which its merit creates for itself.

—How even a little thing like a burr will stick to a fellow. At the last term of Court here, a Clinton witness was put on the stand, but with undue modesty muffled his voice till it could hardly be heard. The Judge in vain urged him to speak louder, and at last he was mumbling over something he asked, "Mr. Witnesses, are you talking now? Are you saying anything?" It couldn't be kept from the Clinton boys, and to-day they seek every occasion to remind the low-voiced witness, as he goes to and fro through town, by asking, "Hoigh-ho, Mr.—are you talking now? Are you saying anything?" If those boys don't quit they'll drive that poor fellow to taking elocutionary lessons.

TRAVELERS, stop at the ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.
The thermometer at 6 o'clock last night stood at 12 degrees above; at 1 o'clock a. m. to-day at 7 degrees above; at 7 o'clock a. m. at 10 degrees above, and at 1 o'clock p. m. at 23 degrees above. Clear.

The indications to-day are, falling, preceded in eastern portions by rising barometer, winds shifting to warmer southerly, westerly, and generally clear weather, followed in the latter district by increasing cloudiness and at night by snow.

THE MERCHANT OF VENICE.

The members of the M. I. C. for the past four or five weeks have been making a thorough study of the Merchant of Venice, and it is proposed to close the study on next Monday evening, with a dramatic rendering of the principal scenes of the play. The scenes belonging to the casket story and to the story of the pound of flesh will be fully brought out. The presentation closes with the beautifully poetic moonlight scene on the avenue leading to Portia's house.

The object of the club in giving this presentation is two-fold. First, as an assistance and stimulus to further study. Second, to make their entertainments something more than merely entertainments; to make them a means of mental discipline and culture. Dr. Newman, who will assume the difficult role of Shylock, is making a close study of the character, and will no doubt give it a good rendering. The equally important and more pleasing character of Portia will be taken by two young ladies for convenience in study. Miss Ida Harris taking the casket scenes and Miss Dollie Patten the court scene. The young ladies show a fine appreciation of this beautiful character, and will do themselves justice in the presentation. The play will be given in costume. We wish the M. I. C. the success which their energy and enterprise merit, and that a crowd will greet them at Lippin's music hall on Monday evening. The young people will give a dance in Apollo hall at the close of the entertainment.

MILWAUKEE VISITORS.

George Peck, of Milwaukee, was true to his promise, and having sent a telegram announcing his coming, he chased it up in person, and appeared in the body as well as in the spirit, at the dance given last evening, by the Janesville Guards, of which he is an honorary and honored member. There were many here who had met him before, and who were, of course, glad to greet him again, and there were many others who knew him, though they had never met him, and who had long ago been introduced to him through the Sun. They, too, were no less glad to greet him. Peck found that he had even more friends here than he imagined, and all gladly gave him greeting. He joined heartily in the festivities of the occasion, and his presence was not among the least of the enjoyable features of the gathering. Peck comes to Janesville every week, but in paper form, and those who have enjoyed his visits so much, enjoyed still more his coming in the flesh, and hope he will make his visits in both ways frequent and his stays long. Keep on doing so, Peck, and we'll all be happy.

Mr. E. S. Everingham accompanied Mr. Peck, and was also heartily welcomed. He is one of Milwaukee's young commission merchants, and a Board of Trade man. Many were glad to form his acquaintance. If he is a sample of Peck's Milwaukee friends, they must average up pretty well, and it is no wonder that he delights to have them go with him when he's off for a good time, and we hope he will bring some more just like him, the next time Janesville is honored with such a visit. The visitors returned this morning.

PROF. J. D. BUTLER.

Prof. Butler, of Madison, will preach at the First Congregational church, to-morrow evening. His subject is, "The Teachings of Travel." A cordial invitation is extended to all.

There are large numbers of the Harris & Smith Safety Lamps exported to foreign countries which show that safety in the use of kerosene is appreciated by foreigners as well as ourselves.

THE GUARDS' GATHERING.

The annual reception and dance given by the Janesville Guards last evening at Cannon's hall called together a large number of those who delight in social doings, though not so many as would naturally have been in attendance had there not been so many similar gatherings of late, and others in prospect for the holiday season. The programme opened with a grand march in which the Guards and their ladies took part, while the other guests filled the gallery, and from that position watched the movements of the gay company which occupied the main floor. The Guards appeared in full uniform, and with their ladies fair formed on the floor in line, and then to the music given by Anderson's orchestra, went through various military evolutions, which presented a pleasing sight, and made a beautiful opening to the evening of gaiety and enjoyment which followed. At the close of this military showing, a waltz followed, and the programme of dancing commenced, in which all were at liberty to join. The festivities were heartily enjoyed by all present, and the arrangements were in keeping with the occasion. Besides the usual conveniences of the place, arrangements were made so that refreshments were served there as the guests desired. The company which gathered last night was made up of much of Janesville's choicest social talent, and the affair was one of which the Guards may well feel proud. The merry doings were kept up until about 2 o'clock, and when the company dispersed it was with happy remembrances of the evening so joyously spent. The Guards besides having enterprise, have a peculiar faculty of rendering their social gatherings successful and enjoyable, and last night was no exception.

TRANSFERS OF REAL ESTATE.

Transfers of real estate filed for record in the office of Register of Deeds:

Mr. JOHN SCHLEYER, the proprietor of the Chilton, Wis., Volante, a progressive German weekly, gratified us with the following: With pleasure I add my testimony to the very able and good deal of joking together at the table and elsewhere. One day at the dinner table, when the dining hall was well filled, Captain Jones, finished his dinner first, and got up and walked almost to the dining hall door, when Emerson spoke to him in a loud voice and said: "Hello, Captain! see here, I want to speak to you a minute." The captain turned and walked back to the table and bent over him, when Emerson whispered: "I wanted to ask you how far you would have gone if I had not spoken to you?" The captain never changed a muscle, but straightened up and put his fingers in his vest pocket and said, in a voice loud enough for all to hear him: "Captain Emerson, I don't know a man in the world I had rather lend $5 to than to you, but the fact is, I haven't a cent with me to-day, and turn I on his heel and walked away. Emerson was the color of half a dozen rainbows, but he had to stand it. He never heard the last of it and it cost him more than ten dollars to treat on it."

TOO MUCH CIDER.

Last evening there was a lively little stir in Fred Richter's grocery store near the Davis house. Two or three men were in there drinking cider with the proprietor and smoking cigars, and one of them, Frank Castler, got to feeling so rich that he pulled out a roll of about $80 and carelessly spread it on the counter. When he came to gather it up he found that $10 was gone, and he was sure he had seen Richter take it, so he accused him. Richter on the other hand claimed that his wife had given Castler $2 in silver to change a bill, but that Castler did not give her the bill, and denied that he had touched or handled the money at all. There was a whirl of talk, and Richter ordered the men out, but they wouldn't go without the missing money being paid back. Richter called "police," and soon Ed Smith was on the spot, but order had been restored, and the men had left when he came there. This morning Castler had Richter arrested for stealing the money, and an amusing trial was had before Justice Pritchard, Richter conducting his own defense in a peculiar manner. He won the battle though, and was discharged. Castler's attorney, A. C. Bates, then guided him into Justice Brook's office, and papers were issued for another action to seek to recover the money alleged to have been stolen.

Wanting to See the Editor.
Springfield Republican.

A man on the cars was offered a newspaper. He took it, looked at the heading, and then threw it aside with disgust and remarked:

"I don't want any news from that paper."

"I supposed everybody had read it in these parts," I answered. "Has it been pitching into you?"

"Pitching into me? Great Caesar! I must think it had. But you just let me meet the editor of that paper."

"You never make anything by striking an editor," I said. "Better grin and bear it."

"Yes, that's all right for you to say; but just let me meet that man! I'll show him how to run a newspaper!"

"What did he do?"

"Do? He did a deal. Here's how it is: I often go to Springfield on evening and come home on the first train in the morning. Well, one night I met an old crank, and we went to the Music Hall and the theater. When we came out we met some friends. Of course I could not get right out, so I treated; in fact, we were having a pretty good time, when some fellow came in and began to raise a row. In less than no time the police were in and had us. The next morning I was hauled before the court and fined $7.40. I did not care much, because I gave a false name, and I knew my wife couldn't find it out; but the next morning I'll be eternally confused if that very paper didn't have it all in, and my name too."

"Did you wife see it?"

"Of course she did." "Did she see a fine?"

"Fuss! Godfrey Elish! Are you married?"

Tit for Tat.

Some time in '94 there were a number of army officers stopping at a hotel in Washington. Among them was a Captain Jones, who was a first rate fellow, a good officer and very pompous fellow. Emerson and Jones were in a good deal of joking together at the table and elsewhere. One day at the dinner table, when the dining hall was well filled, Captain Jones, finished his dinner first, and got up and walked almost to the dining hall door, when Emerson spoke to him in a loud voice and said: "Hello, Captain! see here, I want to speak to you a minute."

The captain turned and walked back to the table and bent over him, when Emerson whispered: "I wanted to ask you how far you would have gone if I had not spoken to you?" The captain never changed a muscle, but straightened up and put his fingers in his vest pocket and said, in a voice loud enough for all to hear him: "Captain Emerson, I don't know a man in the world I had rather lend $5 to than to you, but the fact is, I haven't a cent with me to-day, and turn I on his heel and walked away. Emerson was the color of half a dozen rainbows, but he had to stand it. He never heard the last of it and it cost him more than ten dollars to treat on it."

BROWN'S HOTEL, MACON, GA., Sept. 31, 1879. Messrs. MORGAN & ALLEN, 59 John St., New York City:

Dear Sirs.—In looking over Harper's Weekly paper I saw the advertisement of your valuable medicine, "Constitution Water," and it occurred to me that it was my duty to add to your list of testimonials. For twelve months I suffered with inflammation of the kidneys and bladder; no rest at night, up ten or fifteen times; could not walk across the street without having palpitation of the heart, would have to sit down and rest before I could get back to the hotel. Last May I was obliged to give up my business, that of hotel keeper. I was reduced in weight forty pounds. In August I made the trip by steamer to New York, thence by automobile to New London, Connecticut, where I arrived weak and very much debilitated. My brother, J. F. Brown, President of Brown's Cotton Gin Company at New London, sent to the druggist for a bottle of "Constitution Water," and insisted on my taking it, saying that he, and others he knew, had been troubled in the same way. It seems incredible, but in two days I began to feel better, my appetite improving, and in a few days was able to walk up to the town, some half mile distant, without getting wearied, or having any fluttering or palpitation of the heart. In a short time I returned to New York, visited Coney Island, of course, and walked from the Wooden Pier to the Iron Pier, a distance I should judge of nearly one mile, through the sand; and also a long distance through Central Park without any inconvenience or distress. I am sixty years of age, have lived in Macon fifty-four years, and those that know me know that I would not give this testimonial unless it was due you, and to those suffering as I have suffered. Diseases similar to mine and other diseases your medicine is recommended for are very prevalent in the South. Yours truly, J. F. BROWN, druggist.

Ask your druggist for it.

TO-DAY'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE NEW-YORK TIMES.

FOR 1880.

ESTABLISHED 1851.

The political course of THE NEW-YORK TIMES will be guided during the Presidential year by the same principles which have won for it the position of the foremost Republican newspaper in the United States. The successful issue of the recent contest in New York, and the subsequent series of Republican victories in other Northern States which preceded and accompanied it, have combined to demonstrate the soundness of the position of THE TIMES in regard to the questions with which the Republican Party is called upon to deal.

THE TIMES will continue to place fidelity to the interests of the Republican Party above the pursuit of the hour and the whims of the day, and will steadfastly insist that the usefulness of any party must be measured by the extent of its devotion to the hour and the whims of the day, and will steadfastly insist that the usefulness of any party must be measured by the extent of its devotion to the hour and the whims of the day.
